

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

JANE DOE 1, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

DONALD J. TRUMP, et al.,

Defendants.

Civil Action No. 17-cv-1597 (CKK)

DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR CLARIFICATION
OF THE COURT'S OCTOBER 30, 2017 ORDER

On October 30, 2017, the Court entered an Order granting in part and denying in part Defendants' motion to dismiss and granting in part and denying in part Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. ECF No. 60. In its Order, the Court preliminarily enjoined Defendants from enforcing the "Accession and Retention Directives" in the President's August 25, 2017 Memorandum regarding military service by transgender individuals. Id. The Court also explained that "[t]he effect of the Court's Order is to revert to the status quo with regard to accession and retention that existed before the issuance of the Presidential Memorandum—that is, the retention and accession policies established in the June 30, 2016 Directive-type Memorandum as modified by Secretary of Defense James Mattis on June 30, 2017." Id.

Wholly apart from the enjoined directives in the Presidential Memorandum, the Secretary of Defense has independent authority to defer the effective date of the accessions provisions of Defense Department Directive-Type Memorandum ("DTM") 16-005, issued on June 30, 2016, for the purpose of further studying whether the DTM will impact military readiness and lethality. Indeed, as the Court noted, Secretary Mattis exercised that authority on June 30, 2017, when he deferred the effective date for the accessions provisions of DTM 16-005 from July 1, 2017, to January 1, 2018. See Department of Defense, Release No. NR-250-17 (June 30, 2017).¹

Plaintiffs did not challenge the Secretary's exercise of that authority, nor have they suggested that the Secretary's action was unlawful in any respect. Instead, Plaintiffs have only sought prospective relief to enjoin the Secretary from implementing the President's Memorandum, which the President issued subsequent to the Secretary's exercise of his independent authority.

Accordingly, the Court's October 30, 2017 Order does not prohibit the Secretary of Defense from exercising his discretion to defer the January 1, 2018 effective date for the accessions provisions of DTM 16-005 for a limited period of time to further study whether the policy will impact military readiness and lethality or to complete further steps needed to implement the policy. Nor could the Court have enjoined the Secretary of Defense from exercising such discretion because Plaintiffs have not challenged the Secretary's exercise of his independent authority to study whether the DTM 16-005 will impact military readiness and lethality. Out of an abundance of caution, however, Defendants now seek clarification that, should the Secretary of Defense exercise such discretion, the Secretary's action would not violate the Court's October 30, 2017 Order.

Defendants will be prepared to address the clarification issue at the November 28, 2017 case management conference and respectfully request a ruling on this motion before December 1, 2017, so they may have sufficient time to consider seeking an emergency stay from the Court of Appeals prior to January 1, 2018, if the Court denies the motion.
